

D8-2DAY

Reliable Data Solutions

D8-2DAY – SOME IDEAS YOU MAY WANT TO CONSIDER

PROBLEM	POSSIBLE SOLUTION
That Spreadsheet you rely on for important reports or even to run your whole business has multiple spelling errors and has begun to display errors	I can reformat and cleanse your data using rapid data checking tools and put your spreadsheet back into perfect working order. I can also enhance it and put in measures to stop it corrupting again.
You have a really good database that was written by someone who has now left the company and you are wanting to make changes but cant get at what you want to do	I can open and work on many types of database systems and put in any changes or enhancements or even move all your data into a new database written to your own specification
You want to automate your spreadsheet to provide different reports for your team or manager but you're unsure of how to go about it.	I can take your spreadsheet and add in any enhancements you might want to make in the way it operates for you and your colleagues.
Your small business is getting more popular and with that the information needed to keep and supply to your customer base is growing but you want to concentrate on producing your end product.	I can provide you with several solutions from spreadsheets, databases and also small off the shelf business management systems that I will configure for you or help you to do so.
You have a set of spreadsheets and each one forms a part of your business processes. It would be much better and less time consuming to consolidate all into a single system	I can combine the spreadsheets and add forms and the like to make operation easier. I can write a small database and move all your existing data into it with all the extras you may need to save you time.
Your company has existed for years on a set of spreadsheets and small databases but they are now becoming unwieldy and adding to business risk if they fail or corrupt	Again, I can take your existing datasets and either combine them into a bespoke solution or I can help you find a cost effective off the shelf system that I will help you install and put into action.
Due to cutbacks and other pressures your asset base and register is no longer reliable which is impacting upon your planned and statutory maintenance programme	I can carry out a full asset survey including current lifetime estimation and values and then add the data (and your existing validated data) into an agreed system to ensure your full compliance

For any other queries please phone me on 07450 243016 or email me on info@d8-2day.uk